SINCE 1887

Inspired by old school glamour, Lamb 1887 is a British handbag brand that has taken the fashion industry by storm! Launched in 2011, Lamb 1887 has already gained a number of celebrity followers including Fearné Cotton and Pippa Middleton.

Lamb 1887 was created by Charlotte Lamb, the fourth generation in a family run British manufacturing business based in Yorkshire. Established in 1887 by her great-grandfather's clog workshop, the business has grown from modest beginnings and has been producing leather goods for brands such as Boden and Russell and Bromley over 125 years.

Working as a lawyer in the City of London, Charlotte was inspired to create Lamb 1887 after struggling to find stylish quality handbags at affordable prices. The brand draws on both the craftsmanship of her Yorkshire manufacturing heritage and her love of City style, with prices ranging from £95- £260. Charlotte's aspiration was to create a modern British brand offering glamorous handbags befitting the beautiful women in her life.

Each Lamb bag is made with beautiful soft leather carefully sourced from the highest quality tanneries across Europe and Asia with soft suede leather lining on the inside. The Lamb 1887 style is classic, with a sophisticated edge, the handbags are brought up to date with modern detailing and this seasons colours.

The latest Lamb 1887 collection is available at Annabel's on Royal Parade and www.annabelsluxuryenglishgifts.com
